

AL

Can I take your coat?

ROBIN

No, I'll keep it on.

AL

You won't be cold I just lit the fire.

ROBIN

I'll take it off later. I'm not really dressed for this... Should I tell you what I came up with last night?

AL

Sure. Refill your glass.

ROBIN

Thanks. I think I know what Tui was trying to tell me. Look, I think she meant literally "no one." As in three or four, not one. I think she was multiple raped.

AL

When you think of Tui what do you see?

ROBIN

A very lonely frightened little girl. Why? What do you see?

AL

Well yea I see that but um... I'm looking at that frightened lonely little girl. You know sometimes, maybe, once in your career a case comes along that fits so entirely that you can't let go. Ya know that's when things start to go crazy, you dream about it, you can't stop thinking about it - and everything around it starts to be sullen.

ROBIN

Why do you say that?

AL

Well because I think that this case, Tui's case is triggering history in your life.

ROBIN

I didn't run away from home.

AL

A few of us, older guys, Matt Mitchum included we brought them in and wacked them around, we stripped them gave them a hyding on their skinny little asses.

ROBIN

So does everyone know? Does Officer Joy know? The whole police station?

AL

It wasn't your fault. You know what happened should never have happened. We only did what we did because your father wasn't around to teach those dirty little shits a lesson. Hey... are you okay?

ROBIN

So everyone knows I've been rapped. And those asses are just walking about.

AL

No, no, they were punished.

KATE

Yea... and I had a baby.

AL

Oh Jesus, I didn't know that. How old were you?

ROBIN

Just 16. Mom was Catholic, didn't have a choice. My girl wrote to me a few months ago - she wrote on pink note paper - with two doves in one corner. She really wanted to know a few things about her biological parents. Were we into sports or books... like her. What the fuck could I say? Cause if I was her, if I was her and I found out that my father was one of four rapists and my mother their 15 year old victim, I would want to kill myself. I would want to blow my fucking brains out.

(MORE)

ROBIN (CONT'D)

And that she doesn't know - never has to know - that's it. That's all I have to give her. Every birthday, every Christmas, her fucking right to existence. Fuck the truth Al, fuck the truth.

AL

Is Jonah involved?

ROBIN

No, no. He was my date. He was my date.

AL

I need some more wine. Most of those guys have ever left, they're not around anymore.

ROBIN

Not Sarge.

AL

Oh you so recognize him do you. I wondered if you would.

ROBIN

Oh yeah.

AL

He's driving an old rust bucket, you should pull him over and book him.

ROBIN

Okay. And after that can I kill him?

AL

(laughs) My sense is that your just working this too hard. (looks at Tui's note) I think she just didn't want to say.

ROBIN

No, she's afraid to say.... I'm going home. This is stupid. And you don't get it.
